

Recording touch data

It is sometimes useful to capture incoming touch data to help troubleshoot.

With USB devices this can be achieved in one of three ways, via the UPDD data capture function, using a software analyzer or monitoring data at the hardware level:

Touch-Base Support

<http://support.touch-base.com/Documentation/50407/Recording-touch-data>